

Capitol Insights

Acquired by CFRA in 2021, Washington Analysis identifies and forecasts investment risks and opportunities arising from all levels of government and the courts.

Capitol Insights from Washington Analysis

Industry-leading insights that help advisors identify themes and actionable developments in the public policy and legal environment.

Beyond the Headlines

Cut through the noise with analysis that keeps you informed about what is meaningful and moves markets.

Connecting the Dots

See the impact between policy and legal developments on specific industries and companies.

Forward Looking Analysis

Stay ahead of the curve with forecasting that provides insight into top-of-mind issues for markets over the coming weeks and months.

Trusted Source

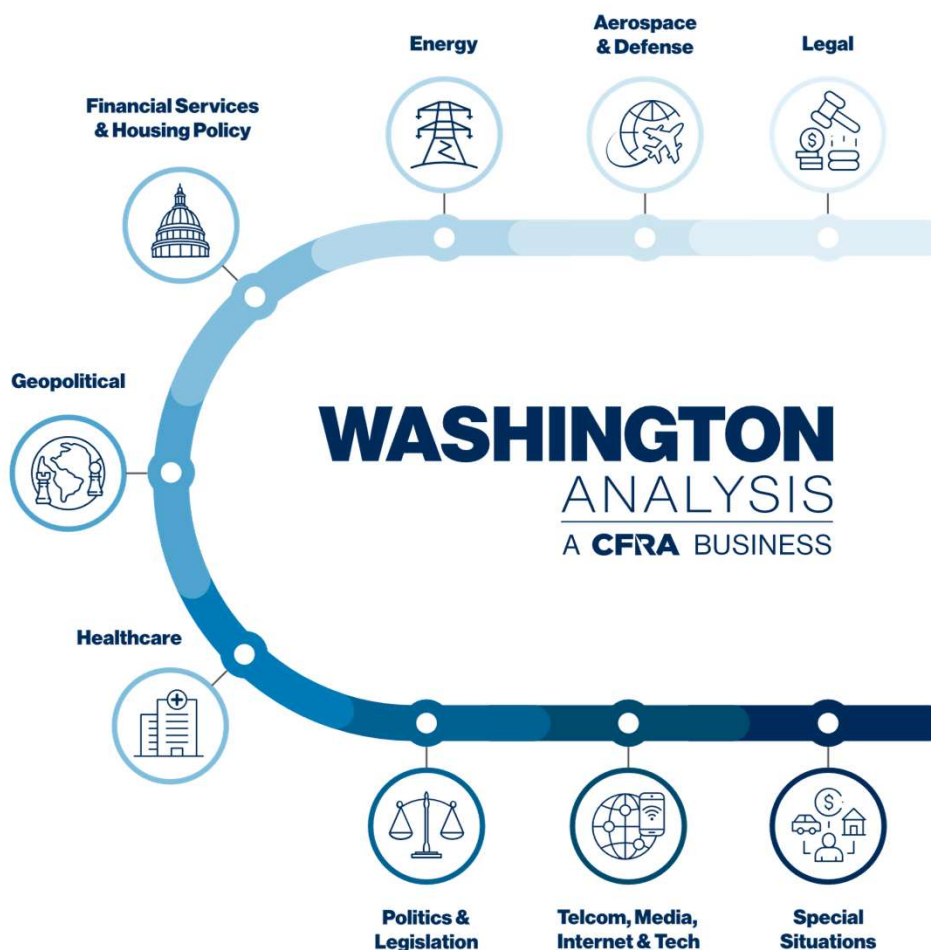

50-year track record of providing independent, non-partisan policy and legal insights to institutional investors.

Regular Cadence of Insights

Bi-weekly insights that help elevate client interactions and periodic commentary and primers on major policy and legal issues.

Broad coverage and deep expertise

Trusted insights spanning the most heavily regulated sectors and market moving policy and legal debates. Our experienced team of analysts average more than 15-years with the firm and features former congressional and agency staff, attorneys, lobbyists, journalists, and fundamental analysts.

A differentiated approach

We separate headline risk from fundamental changes that have a longer lasting impact, enabling us to develop non-consensus views of widely held misperceptions.

Policy Contacts & Sources

Our analysts have an extensive network of contacts, and influencers at both federal and state levels.

Primary News & Data Sources

We draw insights from data acquired through countless primary news and subscription-based sources.

Analyst Expertise

Our long-tenured team brings a unique institutional expertise with careers spanning both the public and private sector from Capitol Hill to Wall Street.

Research Opinion

We only publish research when we have a strong conviction and point of view on an issue, industry, or sector.

Our unique methodology gathers input from multiple proprietary and public sources to produce insightful opinions on the impact of policy changes.

Get more from CFRA

Our full suite of independent investment insights and data helps investment professionals enhance portfolio performance and manage risk.

Forensic Accounting

Fundamental Equity

Technical

Legal

Fund Research

ETF Data & Analytics

Model Portfolios

For more information about CFRA's research, contact us: 1.800.220.0502 or visit us at cfresearch.com